THE RACING FRAUD.

One of the Most Daring Swindles on Record.

Over $100,000 Got Away With by Sharps—How the Thing Was Done—A Combination Extending All Over the Country—The Man in Pittsburg Who Dreamed a Dream

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The wholesale swindle of Saturday, the falsification of the result of the Jerome Park races, by which pool sellers throughout the country lost many thousand dollars, was the most successful swindle of the kind ever perpetrated in this country. It involves losses to the pool sellers throughout the country, which will aggregate $100,000, in all probability. Of this sum about $25,000 was lost by the pool sellers at Coney Island. A singular, and, to those who hold a certain theory as to the authors of the swindle, significant fact is that the bookmakers of this city lost nothing. Their books were good, for the races at Jerome Park were good money races and the odds such as to insure good books. No bets were paid by any of the bookmakers here until after the conclusion of the races and their return from Jerome Park. In the theory advanced by several interviews revealing the bookmakers of this city as the principals in the scheme to be correct, this fact becomes very significant and tends to bear out that theory. If it be correct, the plan was one of exceptional cleverness. It implicates the telegraph operator who sent the messages and the possession by them, or their agent, of a cipher system used as well as a deliberate falsification of the dispatches sent in English, that is without the employment of cipher. The managers of the scheme must also have fixed things with the jockeys to the first and last two races. As their representative played, the winners played each of these in every city in the country. It also involved the employment of men in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and other places to do the betting, all of whom worked on the same plan as that employed at Coney Island. That the telegraphic company did not interfere with the success of the fraud is manifest from the fact that the reports from the races manipulated went through as the gamblers wished. They worked the last two races through the jockeys, presumably because their horses before the races, Constantina and McGowan, did win and they did not need to tamper with the wires or falsify returns.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.—It appears that a man who was a stranger to the local betting men, represented here the pool room sharps who tapped the Jerome Park wires. He gave the initials "R. J." and bought the three horses sent as winners in the bogus dispatches. He won $1,500 and has since disappeared. He told some of the pool room people he had drawn what horses would win, and that was why he bought so heavily.

CALIFORNIA, Oct. 15.—The tapping of the wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company on Saturday, by means of which bogus dispatches were sent all over the country announcing false results of the Jerome Park races and through which nearly $100,000 was lost by the pool sellers throughout the country, remains as much a mystery as ever. Little sympathy is felt for the victimized pool sellers by the public at large, owing to the enormous odds asked by them on certain horses. Press Agent Somerville, of the Western Union, was seen this morning by a reporter, and in answer to an inquiry, said the perpetrator of the tapping had not yet been discovered, but a rigid investigation is in progress and the company would leave no stone unturned to protect its business from such swindlers in the future.

What do you think of the threat of the victimized pool sellers to sue the company for damages?"

"That is all idle talk. The company can not be held responsible for such an upset, any more than it could for having saved over its wires a forged dispatch."

"What is your theory as to the manner in which the swindle was carried out?"

"The wires were undoubtedly tapped, probably from some private residence in this city and the genuine dispatches taken off and converted into bogus ones. The operator at Jerome Park has been in the position for a number of years and has the entire confidence of the company and we have no reason to suspect that he was in the plot. The tapping shows conclusively that some one familiar with the service of the Western Union had a hand in it."

"In case the rascals are discovered, what course will the company pursue?"

"Proceed them to the full extent of the law. It is a State prison offence to cut the wires of a telegraph company or send false information thereby."

RAILROAD SMASH.

A Complication of Collisions on the Erie Railway.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 15.—During the night and morning three collisions occurred on the Erie Railway at Barton, thirty-four miles west of here. Conductor J. C. Sabine, of Hornellsville, was killed instantly. His train was run into the rear by another train at a point where there was a sharp curve. Later, another locomotive collided with a freight train that had been held on the side track, and the engine and nine cars, loaded with petroleum, were wrecked. Another freight train came on at full speed and the locomotive ran into the debris and caught fire, burning three engines, two freight cars, two cabooses and nine car loads of petroleum, besides destroying about 200 feet of double track and the telegraph lines. The total damage will reach about $150,000.

Lower Mississippi Mails.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—The contract for carrying the mails on the Lower Mississippi was awarded to James G. Stewart, of Mobile, at the following figures: Natchez to Vicksburg, $11,750; Natchez to Bayou Sara, $12,950; Baton Rouge to Bayou Sara, $8,950. The service will begin January 1, 1884.

QUEER ROBBERY.

The Manager of the "Romany Rye" Claims a Heavy Loss.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Mr. George Roberts, Manager of the "Romany Rye" Combination, claims to have been robbed between four and six o'clock in the morning at the Tremont House of $21 cash and a gold watch and chain valued at $200. Last evening the entire company left for the West over the Panhandle. Mr. Roberts declined to pay his bill at the hotel. Before leaving he said that after the performance Saturday night he remained at the theater superintending the packing of the scenery. He was engaged until nearly 4 o'clock, when taking the company's share of the receipts for the evening, $771 he went to the hotel. With the clerk he left a check and retaining $271 to pay his own bill and the railroad fare for the company. Mr. Roberts claims that he went to his room, bolted the door, placed the money in an inside pocket of his coat and threw the latter over a chair. He retired and awoke at 6 o'clock. When he got up he found his money, checks, watch and chain gone. The bolt and lock were broken off from the door. He immediately presented a bill to the clerk for $671, which was rejected in part. The hotel men claimed, Mr. Roberts says, that they were not responsible for the loss. They offered, however, to make good the loss of the watch and chain. This offer the theatrical man refused, and he also declared when leaving last evening to pay his own hotel bill of $60. The Tremont clerks in charge and a house detective said that no robbing had been committed, and that if one had occurred they knew nothing about it.

HORRIFIC AFFAIR.

A Negro Chained to a Tree and Burned Alive.

CALIFORNIA, Oct. 15.—A negro named Lewis Woods was tried and convicted at the last term of court for criminally assaulting a colored girl, but escaped from jail in less than a week. After his escape he committed a second crime on a white lady, which so enraged the people that everybody turned out to pursue him. He, together with another escaped convict, a white murderer named Martin, were finally captured by a Sheriff in Texas and taken on a train for Lake Charles. When they reached Edgerton Station, a large crowd had assembled outside the Sheriff, perceiving this threw a quilt which was in the car over Martin so that the mob saw only the negro. They seized the latter and dragged him a short distance from the depot, where they chained him to a tree and covered him with pine knots and chips. The pile was then lighted. The agony of the man was intense that his horrible cries and shrieks could be heard a long distance. After he was dead the crowd started for the jail to get the murderer, but the Sheriff had secreted him.

Missing Indians.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Wong Chin Foo, editor of the Chinese-American, has mysteriously disappeared and Tom Lee, ex-Deputy Sheriff, Chin Lip and Wang Woh, Chinese merchants of Mott street, have also disappeared. Some say that Dennis Kearney, who was recently challenged by Foo, was chiefly instrumental in the latter's departure, while another story is that the Chinese gamblers whom Foo antagonized were the main cause. Wong Chin Foo is thirty-one years of age and the son of a Chinese official who was executed for rebellion. When Foo became of age he joined the Chinese Liberals and for this indiscretion was driven from his native country. He started the Chinese-American about a year ago and was chiefly instrumental in breaking up the Chinese dens of vice.

A Ghostly Law Suit.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Miss Teresa Condron arrived here from Ireland last week alleging that she was driven by the unquiet spirit of her dead brother, Michael Condron, to come to Erie and dispossess James Young, who, the spirit told her, had fraudulently possessed himself of the estate of the deceased brother, valued at $10,000. Miss Condron did as directed and immediately brought suit against Young with evidence sufficient to secure a verdict in her favor.

Swindling Pool-Sellers.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15.—The loss to local pool-sellers by the "tapping" Saturday of Western Union wires and the distribution of bogus information regarding the results of the Jerome Park races is about $5,000. Half of this amount was paid out by W. Riley & Co., and the rest was divided between three and four houses. Riley expects to obtain the return of about $1,500 paid out to his regular customers.

Drowned in a Kettle of Water.

GALENA, ILL., Oct. 14.—A child 13 months old of Mrs. James Dunn, residing in Lena Township, not far from this city, fell into a kettle of water yesterday during the temporary absence of its mother and was drowned. The little one had raised itself upon the kettle so that its body balanced, and falling head foremost into the water, was suffocated.

The Yellow Fever South.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Surgeon Stone, of the Marine Hospital service, stationed at Savannah, Ga., has been ordered to proceed to Brenton, Ala., and investigate the alleged yellow fever epidemic at that place. The Louisiana State Board of Health has been requested to send a competent inspector with Surgeon Stone.

Lower Mississippi Mails.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—The contract for carrying the mails on the Lower Mississippi was awarded to James G. Stewart, of Mobile, at the following figures: Natchez to Vicksburg, $11,750; Natchez to Bayou Sara, $12,950; Baton Rouge to Bayou Sara, $8,950. The service will begin January 1, 1884.

GEORGIA KU-KLUX.

Trial of the Banks County Marauders and Bullets.

History of the Crimes—A Recent Reign of Terror—Some of the Deeds of the Gang—Much Interest Manifested in the Trial—Decent Citizens Have no Sympathy with the Criminals.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—The Banks County Ku-Klux cases will come up for trial in the United States Court-martial, and will create a sensation. The persons who are charged with having connection with the affair have been indicted and are now under bond in sums ranging from $1,500 to $2,500. Four members of the Yarborough family—Jasper, Cole, Neal and James, are among the indicted, as are also E. H. Greene, State Lemons, and others. The alleged outrages were committed several months ago and caused a reign of terror in Banks county, especially among the colored people. The conservative citizens held a meeting when the marauding was at its height and demanded its removal in unmeasured terms. In Banks and Jackson counties the negroes have begun to accumulate some property. There was in Banks county for several months an element of white people who decided that the black men should go, and he was ordered to take up his bed and walk. As a means of emphasizing the proclamation, men of a wild and reckless crew made nightly raids around the country, carrying consternation and hickory whips to the cabins of the colored men. A number of negroes were used up. Some were shot, others were terribly whipped, and one or two were killed

THE Republicans of New York deny that their chances of success have been seriously affected by the loss of Ohio to the Democrats.

PHIL B. THOMPSON, JR., Milton J. Durham, James B. McCreary and Nat. Robinson are probable aspirants for Congress in the Eighth District for the next term.

THE Attorney General of Illinois, has decided that all railroads in that State are under the supervision of the railroad Commission, and must make reports to that body.

A CONVENTION of the colored people of Virginia, held recently at Richmond, calls upon their race to abandon Mahone, avoid antagonizing the whites and stand up for Republicanism.

THE steamer Coptic, which sailed from San Francisco last week, carried away about twelve hundred Chinamen. It is said every one of the number took off with him from $500 to $1,000.

THE total vote in Ohio was 711,691. The prohibition vote (estimated) was 320,605. This gives a majority against prohibition of 70,375. The official count is not likely to make much change in these figures.

A LINE of railroad is to be built by the Kentucky Union from Winchester to Troublesome Creek, on the Kentucky river, a distance of about sixty-eight miles. The line will run through a valuable coal country.

GOVERNOR KNOTT has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $600 for the capture of Isaiah Onan, James Estes and Harrison Washburn, who so brutally assaulted and committed rape upon the person of Mrs. Curtiss and her daughter at Sand Riffle, in Franklin county.

THE new postal notes are already being used to some extent as currency, but it isn't likely that they will get into general circulation when it is thoroughly understood that they can only be cashed at the post office upon which they are drawn, and must be presented within three months after date.

THE Chinese are going. Every day or so we read of a boiler explosion or terrible railroad disaster, and it's an odd list, indeed, of killed and wounded that doesn't show at least half dozen Chinamen having shared in the death-dealing visitation. At this rate it may take years to get entirely rid of our unwelcome guests, but we shall worry through it. All we need is time.

It is reported that "despite the many assertions said to be made on authority from Geystone that Samuel J. Tilden would under no circumstances consent to be the Presidential candidate of the Democratic party in 1884, it may be set down that a desperate effort will be made to nominate the old ticket with the full knowledge and consent of the two gentlemen most directly interested."

The wife and daughter of the late Montgomery Blair are still living at the Silver Springs, Md., homestead. The youngest son is at Princeton College.

David Davis, during his stay in Washington, always lived in a second-class hotel, and was, beyond doubt, the closest man ever in public life. It is said that he would dispute with the apple-woman in the Senate hall over the price of an apple.

Fashion Notes.

French dressmakers pad the hips of new dresses for women of slight figure.

Cabbage bows—otherwise rosettes—of velvet ribbon trim autumn bonnets, hats and dresses.

Vandyked flounces bound with velvet or white satin ribbon are used to trim skirts of new woolen and silk dresses.

Plaid or striped skirts with tunics to match, and a tailor-made coat of cloth or a woven Jersey, will be the regulation dress for school girls this winter.

Wild rose pink will be a fashionable color for the thick corded silk gowns worn as dinner and reception dresses this winter, and by the bridesmaids at October weddings.

Natty cutaway jackets with checked waist-coats are worn with plain skirts of dark wool, with a simple hem, and gathered into the waistband or plaited alike all around.

New ball dresses are of colored telle spotted with chenille. They are draped over satin of the same color, and have a low, sleeveless bodice, worn with a fichu of the folded telle.

Surah chemise sets, made with very full gathers or close plaitings, fill up the front of cashmere dresses in square plastron shape just below the neck, or they extend to the point of the dress below the waist.

Satin is not to be superseded by Ottoman silk or velvets, for at least another season. Among the richest dress patterns as yet exhibited are those of plain satin with several yards richly embossed with velvet of gay colors in branches of flowers.

Black Russian lamb skin is the fur that will be most used for trimming cloth dresses and cloaks. Epaulet pelicans of this glossy, waving fur will be worn accompanied by small flat muffs with square corners.

A favorite way of making morning gowns is to plait the bodice in fine plaits from the throat and imprisoning the waist in a wide belt of velvet fastened by a silver buckle; the plaiting below the belt forms a frill that covers the hips.

New fans have the favorite gray dove's plumage mounted on sticks of gray wood or bluebird's feathers on mother-of-pearl. Most curious of all are the fans made of owl's feathers, having an owl's head with eyes on the frame work.

For and About Women.

Wagner's widow still refuses to see visitors, and her home presents a dismal and funeral aspect from the outside.

A Russian princess of remarkable beauty, it is rumored will make her debut in Washington society this winter.

The strongest evidence yet presented that Miss Hill has a real claim on Senator Sharon is that he once called her "Baby."

Mrs. E. Lynn Linton, the English story writer, is over sixty years of age, but still works indefatigably and keeps up her social duties.

It is now generally known that Pere Hyacinthe's wife, who accompanies him on a trip to this country, is a Miss Butterworth, of Wisconsin.

Nebraska women have established a paper of their own, called the Woman's Tribune, and having as the motto, "Equality before the law."

Three years' constant study in Italy, says an exchange, will make an American girl know too much to sing in church and too little to be useful in opera.

An Iowa woman claims that George Augustus Sala didn't know what he was talking about when he said America is a woman's kingdom; for she says, it is just the opposite.

On the occasion of the marriage of Miss Knight, the daughter of the Lord Mayor of London, to Mr. Aitkens, the other day, the eight bridesmaids wore dresses of white brocaded silk adorned with wreaths of Virginia creeper.

A True Fish Story.

Lexington Advertiser.

Col. Alex. Morgan, of Green Cove, Florida, who is now here on a visit, says the published story of a catfish swallowing Senator Beck's eye glasses is true. Col. Morgan's hotel runs out to the edge of St. John's river, and immense numbers of catfish are in the habit of congregating at the wharf to eat scraps thrown from the kitchen. A bone, piece of meat, or garbage of any kind, if thrown into the water, is seized and devoured by these fish, which fight like dogs over the food. They swarm around by thousands and are as voracious as sharks. Col. Morgan says he does not allow any one to catch these scavenger catfish, as they are not good to eat. Some of them are four feet long. If one stamps upon the wharf the fish come swarming in from all directions, rolling and tumbling over each other like hogs trying to get at a swill trough. They will seize and swallow anything thrown to them, such as cigars, nails, tobacco, buttons or jewelleries. While leaning over the wharf watching these fish Senator Beck's eye glasses dropped into the water. A big fish swallowed them and ran away, much to the disgust of the Senator.

The Jacquot Spindle.

MARYSVILLE, KY. Oct. 15, 1883.

El. Bulletin: In your issue of this day I saw an extract from the Courier-Journal of the 12th noticing Mr. Jacquot's spindle, and as it contained one or two inaccuracies and knowing them to be so, I would say that the frame was started at 9,500 and 12,500 respectively, and was not confined to No. 40 yarn, he having spun No. 80 for some hours as successfully as No. 40, and that Mr. Jacquot had seen some of his spindles running here in the mill at Maysville at an earlier date than Monday last, and that such a statement leading persons to believe that the spindle was wholly untried previous to its exhibition before the public is erroneous and might be used by unprincipled parties to his disadvantage and that Monday was only the date at which he increased it to 18,000 or more critically 18,280. Respectfully yours,

JAMES S. STREETER,

The competition of Mexican women was too much for a man who started a laundry at Corpus Christi, Texas.

THE Irontonian, in noticing the death of Col. E. M. Morton, says: In the year 1846 he organized a company of skilled mechanics in Pittsburgh, at the time of the memorable six months strike, and built the first nail factory in Wheeling. His enterprise organized and built the Belmont Works there. He was one of the principal movers in building up the iron works at Benwood and Steubenville. In 1862 he and his associates purchased the Star Nail Works, of this place, now the Belfont, which has been and is a marked success. He also organized and built the Norton Iron Works at Ashland. He and his associates revolutionized the methods of doing business in this vicinity. He commenced his remarkable career as an apprenticed nailer. He was an outspoken man of positive views and large information. He will long be remembered by those who knew him.

THE following is from the Cincinnati Evening Post. Some of the heirs to the estate named formerly lived in this city: Leonard Case, a millionaire old bachelor charitable and eccentric, died in Cleveland several years ago, leaving, besides a handsome legacy for a school of applied science which bears his name, a large property for his heirs and next of kin to quarrel over in the courts. One of the suits now pending in the supreme court, the court of last resort, hinges upon the appearance of the letter "s" in the Ohio statutes. The other descendants of Leonard Case's mother claim a share in the estate. The statutes provide that under certain contingencies the estate of a deceased person shall pass to the next of kin of the blood of ancestors from whom the estate came. If the word "ancestors" is to be construed in its full force the descendants of Mrs. Case can obtain their full share. On the other hand, it is claimed that the letter "s" at the end of "ancestors" crept into the statutes through the carelessness of some printer or proof-reader. The case will be heard in the supreme court before long. The property involved is valued at $1,000,000.

Miss MAGGIE BATEMAN, daughter of Mr. William Bateman, of this county, died on Sunday night about ten o'clock. The burial took place at the Maysville Cemetery this morning.

A peculiar virtue in Ayer's Sarparilla is that while it cleanses and purges the blood from all corruptions and impurities, and thereby roots out all diseases, it builds up and invigorates the whole system, and makes one young again.

Mr. J. W. JENNINGS, one of the most careful and successful planters in Bracken county, was awarded a first premium on White Burley tobacco for cutting purposes at the Germantown fair. His crop was the best in his county this season.

R. BALL, colored, was arrested at Washington, on Saturday evening, by Constable George C. Goggin, for carrying a concealed deadly weapon. He was tried before Judge Coons, on Monday, and was adjudged guilty. He was sent to jail for ten days and fined $25.

On behalf of the Fair Company we are requested to say that the game of base ball at the grounds last Sunday was without the consent of the board, and that they were ignorant that it was to take place. We are also asked to say that it will not occur again.

THE Irontonian, in noticing the death of Col. E. M. Morton, says: In the year 1846 he organized a company of skilled mechanics in Pittsburgh, at the time of the memorable six months strike, and built the first nail factory in Wheeling. His enterprise organized and built the Belmont Works there. He was one of the principal movers in building up the iron works at Benwood and Steubenville. In 1862 he and his associates purchased the Star Nail Works, of this place, now the Belfont, which has been and is a marked success. He also organized and built the Norton Iron Works at Ashland. He and his associates revolutionized the methods of doing business in this vicinity. He commenced his remarkable career as an apprenticed nailer. He was an outspoken man of positive views and large information. He will long be remembered by those who knew him.

THE following is from the Cincinnati Evening Post. Some of the heirs to the estate named formerly lived in this city: Leonard Case, a millionaire old bachelor charitable and eccentric, died in Cleveland several years ago, leaving, besides a handsome legacy for a school of applied science which bears his name, a large property for his heirs and next of kin to quarrel over in the courts. One of the suits now pending in the supreme court, the court of last resort, hinges upon the appearance of the letter "s" in the Ohio statutes. The other descendants of Leonard Case's mother claim a share in the estate. The statutes provide that under certain contingencies the estate of a deceased person shall pass to the next of kin of the blood of ancestors from whom the estate came. If the word "ancestors" is to be construed in its full force the descendants of Mrs. Case can obtain their full share. On the other hand, it is claimed that the letter "s" at the end of "ancestors" crept into the statutes through the carelessness of some printer or proof-reader. The case will be heard in the supreme court before long. The property involved is valued at $1,000,000.

ARRESTED AT LAST.

The Murderer of Ada Atkinson
Believed to be Caught.

The Man Nelling Makes a Confession
Which Leads to the Arrest of One
Ladd—Public Sentiment on the Affair—Fears of Lynching.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 15.—Last night detective Harris arrested Jacob Ladd for the murder of Ada Atkinson, on the strength of a confession of Jacob Nelling, farm hand of Atkinson, that on the afternoon of the day when the tragedy occurred Ladd proposed to him that they rape the young girl. Nelling emphatically declined. His first knowledge of the crime was the discovery of Ada's body by her sister Lucy. Many believe Nelling's confession to be a lie and that to escape punishment he implicates Ladd. The latter is, however, known to have been near the place where the murderer was committed at the time it was perpetrated. He acknowledges having heard the screams of the unfortunate girl and noted by his watch the exact time. Ladd will be remembered as the hostler of Mrs. Johnson, whose name has been linked with that of Mr. Atkinson in unsavory connection. Excitement runs high at Oxford, and Ladd is in peril of lynching. Three physicians on Sunday examined the remains of the dead girl, but decomposition having set in, no examination could be made. A court of inquiry will hear Nelling's evidence under oath at Fowler this morning.

Fast Ocean Time.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The new steamer Oregon of the Williams & Guion line arrived at the Sandy Hook bar at 12:30 p.m., having made the run from Queenstown in 7 days 8 hours and 33 minutes. She was expected to make the trip in six days and nights and would have done so if the weather had been at all favorable. She encountered adverse winds during most of the voyage, and had two successive days of heavy fog. One hour was lost on Friday by bad journals. Saturday was a fair day, almost the first in which an opportunity was offered to fairly test the speed of the new vessel. That day she made 456 miles, beating the best record for twenty-four hours, which was 428 miles, made by the Alaska. Mr. Pearce of the firm of John Elder & Co., the builders of the vessel and Mr. Guion, the senior partner of the firm of Williams & Guion, were on board. Among the passengers were Mrs. Langtry, and her mother, Mrs. LeBreton.

A GHOST HUNT.

Discovery of a Dead Body Leads to a Search.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—The body of Mrs. A. H. Leggett, wife of the postmaster at New Bridge, Berger county, was found in the Hackensack river. She had been missing since the night of October 2nd, when she left her residence clad only in her night dress, leaving note saying that she was going to the river. An alleged ghost has been haunting the neighborhood lately and this apparition has been supposed by some to be Mrs. Leggett. Now that her death has been ascertained to be a result of suicide, the police are searching for the perpetrator of the ghost hoax.

A number of mass meetings will be held in the city to-night, which will be addressed by Herr Most and other delegates.

SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Erptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. After a few days the sores began to heal, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me. Yours respectfully, Mrs. ANN O'BRIAN."

148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'BRIAN: also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. No one can doubt the value of this medicine, as it has been used for many years.
